I have been living with a rare, life-threatening disease called pulmonary arterial hypertension (PAH) for This disease makes it difficult for me to breathe and puts undo pressure on my heart. While there is no cure for this devastating disease, you can help me phight back by contributing to my cause of raising awareness in my community.

Please consider donating in honor of my birthday to help me raise awareness and help other women and men get the help they need like me and #Phight to see another birthday. If you are unable to donate please share this event in an effort to reach my goal.
